

Teamwork Makes the Dream Work

A Study on the Book of Nehemiah

Nehemiah 3:1-32

HOW TO TACKLE THE IMPOSSIBLE!

The bigger the task, the more important it is to...

1. Remember it'll take teamwork to make the dream work.
2. Break things into bite-sized pieces.
3. Adapt the assignment to fit the person.
4. Cut the competition aggressively.
5. Ignore the turkeys and minimize their impact.
6. Recognize and celebrate results.
7. Avoid being paralyzed by perfection.

QUICK REVIEW - Looking back over your sermon notes, which particular point or passage of Scripture most challenged, confused or caught your attention?

1. What was the best team that you ever played with or worked with? Why was this a great team?
2. What kind of people would you ask to build the wall? What kind of people built this wall? (Neh. 3:1,8,12,14-17,26,32). What kind of attitude was there among some of the rich from Tekoa. What does this tell us about getting everyone involved?
3. What do you see as the significance of the words, "over against his house" or "beside his house" How do you think this helped with the overall strategy especially when opposition arose? Neh. 3"10, 21-23; 28-30.
4. Note that by identifying individuals as leaders or special commendation Nehemiah is a great encourager. Are you following the "encourage one another" principle found in the NT? Who could you encourage and how?
5. What kind of co-operation can we expect from people for certain projects? Some help, get the job done quickly and go and help others. Others stand back and watch the work go by. There are givers and there are takers, which do you tend to be? Has the Lord laid a project in your heart that the group can help you accomplish?
